

We Are With You

There's no other way to say it other than our hearts are sad for the many dairy producers who have been asked to dispose of milk these past number of days. It is very difficult to wrap our heads around how so much has changed in our lives, our country and our world during these last few weeks.

What we do know is this: the stress our entire dairy industry is experiencing right now is vast. It's stunning for the dairy producers who work day-in and day-out to produce a quality product while caring for your animals. It's challenging for those whose businesses are directly tied to supporting farmers that produce such a high quality product. It's stressful for companies who process and turn raw milk into consumer products.

We believe it is so important that we hang tight together these days, even when it requires that we do this physically from afar. Many thoughts and prayers are lifted up by our staff for everyone associated with the dairy industry right now. Please know that we are with you.
